On March 5, the Nashville Business Journal hosted our annual Best in Business Awards luncheon at The Westin Nashville.

In addition to celebrating all this year's finalists, we also announced one winner in each category. To see who took home top honors, check out the slideshow below.

Also, as part of this year's music-themed festivities, we asked honorees, "If your company were a band, what would the design on your drum set look like?" Companies submitted their art, and we awarded one as Most Creative at the luncheon. This year's award for creativity went to Barge Design Solutions. See Barge's design, and the other entries, below:

Check back online for photos from the luncheon and Q&As with our honorees, and be sure to pick up a copy of our March 13 print issue to see all the finalists highlighted in a special section.
